PARTY WITH YOUR LIBRARY CARD

What: September is National Library Card Sign-up Month, and the Waco-McLennan County Library will celebrate by hosting a library card party. We will waive all extra fees to sign up for a card. This party will have free refreshments, local authors, a voting on favorite books and a contest for new novel ideas.

Who: All members of the community are invited. For those who are nonpermanent residents of McLennan County, this is a great chance to get a library card without additional fees. At the presentation of a valid student ID, we will waive the $20 fee and allow students free access for the remainder of their college career. Local Wacoans outside of McLennan County will receive waived fees for two years.

When: The event is Sept. 4, the first Saturday of the month, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Where: Waco-McLennan County Central Library located at 1717 Austin Ave.

Photo/Interview Op.: Librarian Lenny Jones has worked for the library for 10 years and will be at the event Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Jannette Bryan, mother of two school-aged kids, comes in weekly to exchange her books and select new ones. She has been coming to the library for seven years and will be at the event from noon to 3 p.m.

About Waco-McLennan County Library

The Waco-McLennan County Library connects individuals to quality and diverse resources for education, information and recreation. We have four locations in Waco and desire to promote literacy skills among all ages and familial engagement in local libraries by raising awareness of the role local libraries have and the resources available to community members.
